Advice 2931-G/3284-E

(Pacific Gas and Electric Company ID U 39 M)

Public Utilities Commission of the State of California

Subject: Revisions to Applications for Service Forms 62-0683, 62-0684, 62-0685, and 62-0686

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) hereby submits for filing revisions to its gas and electric filed forms. The affected forms are listed on the enclosed Attachment I.

Purpose

PG&E proposes to change Applications for Service forms 62-0683, 62-0684, 62-0685, and 62-0686 as follows:

- To update mailing and URL information;
- To add a question regarding the applicant's intention to use an applicant designer

Background

PG&E is currently engaged in an effort to streamline the way it manages requests for extensions of service to new customers. Consistent with this effort, PG&E requests approval for changes in four of its Application for Service (AFS) forms.

PG&E will update mailing and URL addresses in these forms because these addresses are now out of date.

PG&E also proposes to add a question about the applicant's plans to use an applicant designer on proposed new projects.

PG&E believes that gathering the most information as early as possible from applicants for new service will expedite PG&E's ability to produce and deliver specific information applicant designers and their customers need to schedule and begin work. Gathering information as early as possible will enable PG&E to implement improvements to its work processes.

PG&E understands and appreciates its obligation to compete fairly for design work associated with new line and service extensions. For this reason PG&E intends only to insert a question - the answer to which is not binding on the applicant in any way - in the Applicant Design section of these Application for Service forms. PG&E has also included language that informs applicants that answering the question regarding their plans to use Applicant Design contractors is both voluntary and non binding. In this way, PG&E seeks both to expedite service to its customers and to honor its obligation to compete fairly for design work.

Form Revisions

Text to be inserted into four PG&E Applications for Service will be:

PG&E must provide project specific information to design contractors. PG&E can provide this information sooner if we know whether or not you are considering using a design contractor to design gas/electric distribution or service facilities.

Providing this information on this Application is voluntary and is not binding. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design work regardless of whether or not you answer this question now and will not require a final decision from you until later in the process.

Are you currently planning to use a design contractor? Yes No

Form revisions are attached to this advice letter in red-lined format.

Application and Design and Installation Options

As an applicant for new gas or electric service, you can choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to design new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. You can also choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to construct all or a portion of new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design and the construction work, to assist you in making a selection. You will then have the opportunity to choose either a qualified contractor to perform the design/or construction work. In accordance with PG&E's filed tariffs, electric trenching, conduits, substructures and gas service trenching are the applicant's responsibility. Once you make a decision about who will perform the work, if you subsequently change your selection, you will be responsible for any re-engineering charges incurred as a result of that change.

You should become familiar with the applicant design installation requirements, including PG&E's Applicant Design Guide and General Terms and Conditions, before you make your selection. For copies of these documents and/or for addition information, visit www.pge.com/mybusiness/customerservice/otherrequests/newconstruction/processguide/step1/appdes.shtml or request information by calling 1-877-PGE-SRVC.

PG&E must provide project specific information to design contractors. PG&E can provide this information sooner if we know whether or not you are considering using a design contractor to design gas/electric distribution or service facilities.

Providing this information on this Application is voluntary and is not binding. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design work regardless of whether or not you answer this question now and will not require a final decision from you until later in the process.

Agreement to Pay and Signature

I understand that service will be engineered and installed based upon the information provided here. I agree to pay PG&E, on demand, for all work PG&E performs and all costs PG&E incurs for this application for service. PG&E may cancel this Application for Service if I do not proceed with the project and it becomes inactive for a period of 12 months. If the project is postponed or cancelled, by either party, I will pay PG&E for all such work and costs incurred by PG&E prior to the postponement or cancellation. PG&E's costs may include, for example, labor, material and supplies, (including long lead time materials), transportation, and other direct costs which PG&E allocates to such work. Incomplete information or any changes made at my request during the engineering, or after it is completed, will subject me to additional charges and may delay the establishment of service. I further agree to pay for any damage to new or existing PG&E facilities caused by my contractors or me. Service shall be subject to all of PG&E's applicable tariff schedules on file with and authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) and shall at all times be subject to such changes or modifications as the CPUC may direct from time to time in the exercise of its jurisdiction. I understand that PG&E may require an engineering advance to cover some or all of its costs for project review, design work and cost development in connection with this application for service. I understand that any advance will be based upon current costs and the amount of work anticipated by PG&E based upon the information submitted in this application. I understand that any advance will be credited against the amount I owe, applied to the amount I may owe on the resulting line extension agreement, or refunded to me without interest when PG&E has completed its engineering work or if the project has been cancelled or postponed.

I have read the above information. I understand and agree with the provisions and my responsibilities.

Applicant Design and Installation Options

As an applicant for new gas or electric service, you can choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to design new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. You can also choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to construct all or a portion of new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design and the construction work, to assist you in making a selection. You will then have the opportunity to choose either a qualified contractor to perform the design/or construction work. In accordance with PG&E's filed tariffs, electric trenching, conduits, substructures and gas service trenching are the applicant's responsibility. Once you make a decision about who will perform the work, if you subsequently change your selection, you will be responsible for any re-engineering charges incurred as a result of that change.

You should become familiar with the applicant design installation requirements, including PG&E's Applicant Design Guide and General Terms and Conditions, before you make your selection. For copies of these documents and/or for addition information, visit Document, Preliminary Statement Part A www.pge.com/newconstruction/processguide/step1/appdes.shtml or request information by calling 1-877-PGE-SRVC.

PG&E must provide project specific information to design contractors. PG&E can provide this information sooner if we know whether or not you are considering using a design contractor to design gas/electric distribution or service facilities.

Providing this information on this Application is voluntary and is not binding. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design work regardless of whether or not you answer this question now and will not require a final decision from you until later in the process.

Are you currently planning to use a design contractor? Yes No

Application and Design and Installation Options

As an applicant for new gas or electric service, you can choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to design new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. You can also choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to construct all or a portion of new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design and the construction work, to assist you in making a selection. You will then have the opportunity to choose either a qualified contractor to perform the design/or construction work. In accordance with PG&E's filed tariffs, electric trenching, conduits, substructures and gas service trenching are the applicant's responsibility. Once you make a decision about who will perform the work, if you subsequently change your selection, you will be responsible for any re-engineering charges incurred as a result of that change.

You should become familiar with the applicant design installation requirements, including PG&E's Applicant Design Guide and General Terms and Conditions, before you make your selection. For copies of these documents and/or for addition information, visit www.pge.com/mybusiness/customerservice/otherrequests/newconstruction/processguide/step1/appdes.shtml or request information by calling 1-877-PGE-SRVC.

PG&E must provide project specific information to design contractors. PG&E can provide this information sooner if we know whether or not you are considering using a design contractor to design gas/electric distribution or service facilities.

Providing this information on this Application is voluntary and is not binding. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design work regardless of whether or not you answer this question now and will not require a final decision from you until later in the process.

Are you currently planning to use a design contractor? Yes

Applicant Design and Installation Options

As an applicant for new gas or electric service, you can choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to design new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. You can also choose either PG&E or a qualified contractor to construct all or a portion of new gas/electric distribution and/or service facilities. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design and the construction work, to assist you in making a selection. You will then have the opportunity to choose either a qualified contractor to perform the design/or construction work. In accordance with PG&E's filed tariffs, electric trenching, conduits, substructures and gas service trenching are the applicant's responsibility. Once you make a decision about who will perform the work, if you subsequently change your selection, you will be responsible for any re-engineering charges incurred as a result of that change. You should become familiar with the applicant design installation requirements, including PG&E's Applicant Design Guide and General Terms and Conditions, before you make your selection. For copies of these documents and/or for addition information, visit Document, Preliminary Statement Part A www.pge.com/newconstruction/processguide/step1/appdes.shtml or request information by calling 1-877-PGE-SRVC.

PG&E must provide project specific information to design contractors. PG&E can provide this information sooner if we know whether or not you are considering using a design contractor to design gas/electric distribution or service facilities.

Providing this information on this Application is voluntary and is not binding. PG&E will provide you with a bid for the design work regardless of whether or not you answer this question now and will not require a final decision from you until later in the process.

Are you currently planning to use a design contractor? Yes ☐ No ☐

Agreement to Pay and Signature

I understand that service will be engineered and installed based upon the information provided here. I agree to pay PG&E, on demand, for all work PG&E performs and all costs PG&E incurs for this application for service. PG&E may cancel this Application for Service if I do not proceed with the project and it becomes inactive for a period of 12 months. If the project is postponed or cancelled, by either party, I will pay PG&E for all such work and costs incurred by PG&E prior to the postponement or cancellation. PG&E's costs may include, for example, labor, material and supplies, (including long lead time materials), transportation, and other direct costs which PG&E allocates to such work. Incomplete information or any changes made at my request during the engineering, or after it is completed, will subject me to additional charges and may delay the establishment of service. I further agree to pay for any damage to new or existing PG&E facilities caused by my contractors or me. Service shall be subject to all of PG&E's applicable tariff schedules on file with and authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) and shall at all times be subject to such changes or modifications as the CPUC may direct from time to time in the exercise of its jurisdiction. I understand that PG&E may require an engineering advance to cover some or all of its costs for project review, design work and cost development in connection with this application for service. I understand that any advance will be based upon current costs and the amount of work anticipated by PG&E based upon the information submitted in this application. I understand that any advance will be credited against the amount I owe, applied to the amount I may owe on the resulting line extension agreement, or refunded to me without interest when PG&E has completed its engineering work or if the project has been cancelled or postponed.

I have read the above information. I understand and agree with the provisions and my responsibilities.
