

ELECTRIC RULE NO. 9
 RENDERING AND PAYMENT OF BILLS

Sheet 1

A. BILLS PREPARED AT REGULAR INTERVALS

Bills for electric service will be rendered at regular intervals. All bills will be based on meter registration or actual usage data, except as provided in C and G below, or as may otherwise be provided in PG&E's tariffs.

(T)

Meters will be read as nearly as possible at regular intervals. Except as otherwise stated the regular billing period will be once each month. Due to Sundays and Holidays it is not always possible to read meters on the same day of each month. Where the monthly period is less than 27 days or more than 33 days, a pro rata correction will be made in the bill based on the number of days in the period in question to the total days in an average month, which will be taken as 30 days. Where, however, daily equivalent are used in place of fixed monthly charges, there will be no pro rata correction. Instead, the calculation shall use the number of days in the billing period multiplied by the daily equivalent charge. Where daily baseline or medical quantities are used, the calculation shall use the number of days in the billing period multiplied by the daily equivalent kilowatthours (kWh).

Whenever PG&E's rates include an annual minimum, an annual service or an annual demand charge, said charge is to be payable in twelve (12) equal monthly installments throughout the year where service is not seasonal; where service is seasonal in nature, such as for agricultural, reclamation, wineries, etc., such charges shall be due and payable in equal monthly installments during the normal period of use, unless otherwise specified in PG&E's tariffs. Where such charges are based on the maximum demand during the year, the proportionate amount due and payable at the end of any month shall be based on the maximum demand which shall have occurred during the contract year up to that time.

B. PRO RATA CORRECTION

Except as provided in Section J below, opening and closing bills and monthly bills for electric service rendered for periods of less than 27 days or more than 33 days will be computed in accordance with the rate schedule applicable to that service, but (unless otherwise provided in this rule, or in the applicable rate schedule) the amount of energy blocks, demand blocks, etc., and the service charge, demand charge, or minimum charge will be prorated on the basis of the number of days in the period in question to the total number of days in an average month, as specified in Section A above. However, where daily equivalent are used, there will be no pro rata correction. Instead, the calculation shall use the number of days in the billing period multiplied by the daily equivalent charge.

B. PRO RATA CORRECTION (Cont'd.)

When one or more regularly scheduled meter readings have been missed, the proration factor for the next regularly scheduled meter reading shall be 1.000 times the number of monthly billing cycles in the period. When an interim bill based on a special reading for a period other than 27 to 33 days has been issued during the interval since the last regularly scheduled meter reading, the proration factor for the regularly scheduled bill shall be the factor derived above, less the proration factor applied to the interim bill. However, where daily equivalents are used, there will be no pro rata correction. Instead, the calculation shall use the number of days in the billing period by the daily equivalent charge.

C. ESTIMATED BILLS

If for reasons beyond the meter reading entity's control, the customer's meter cannot be read on the Scheduled Meter Reading Date, or if for any reason accurate usage data are not available, PG&E will bill the customer for estimated consumption during the billing period. Estimated consumption for this purpose will be calculated considering the customer's prior usage, PG&E's experience with other customers of the same class in that area, and the general characteristics of the customer's operations. (T)

When PG&E is unable to access and change the existing meter to the SmartMeter™ system, PG&E may bill the customer for estimated consumption until the meter has been changed. (N)
 (N)

Unless estimated bills result from inability to access and change the existing meter to the SmartMeter™ system, inaccessible roads, the customer, the customer's agent, other occupant, animal or physical condition of the property preventing access to PG&E's facilities on the customer's premises, other causes within control of the customer, or a natural or man-made disaster such as a fire, earthquake, flood, or severe storms, the issuance of estimated bills shall be considered "billing error" for the purposes of applying Rule 17.1. (T)
 (T)

D. READINGS OF SEPARATE METERS NOT COMBINED

For the purpose of making charges, each meter upon the customer's premises will be considered separately, and the readings of two or more meters will not be combined, except as follows:

1. Where combinations of meter readings are specifically provided for in rate schedules.
2. Where PG&E's operating convenience or necessity shall require the installation of two or more meters upon the customer's premises instead of one meter.
