

How tenants can prepare for Public Safety Power Shutoffs

For your safety, PG&E may have to turn off power when wildfire risk is high. This is called a Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS). We want to help you and other tenants in your building prepare with outage resources.

Explore resources at pge.com/afn.

- Contact 211 California to get free, live personalized guidance and connect with local programs. Call 211 or text "PREPARE" to 211-211.
- Discover how the Medical Baseline and Self-Identified Vulnerable Programs can help you before and during outages.
- Learn how the Disability Disaster Access and Resources Program can assist you before, during and after a PSPS outage.
- Plan and coordinate for your mobility issues if you live in a building with elevators or wheelchair lifts in case you need to evacuate while the power is out.
- Check if you qualify for free and reduced-cost backup power.

Receive PSPS alerts for any address you care about by signing up at pge.com/addressalerts. You don't need to be a PG&E account holder.
