[MUSIC PLAYING]

We have to look at things holistically. Clean and sustainable, and efficient energy in service of our customers, it goes hand in hand with the beautiful state that we're blessed with. We have to be able to balance those things.

[MUSIC PLAYING]

Because we're not seeing them as our customers. We see them as a human being. I see the passion and the love of everybody here. They want to make a difference. This is actually the message of PG&E. We're part of the community. We're here for you.
