

Clean Energy Calculator Benefits

Ready to make clean, more sustainable choices for your home and wallet?

Use PG&E's Clean Energy Calculator to find innovative, efficient electric solutions that meet your energy needs. And get personalized estimates of costs and savings. Get started by signing into your PG&E online account. Then under the Usage and Rates dropdown menu on your dashboard, click on the Clean Energy Calculator link.

Start your calculation by selecting the clean energy product you're considering. Choose the products you'd like to evaluate for your home. Select different combinations, like solar panels, heat pumps, electric vehicles, and batteries, to see how installation costs with available rebates and energy savings vary. You can also review and compare how your monthly expenses will fluctuate.

Then, you'll see recommended next steps and links to helpful resources, like your best rate-plan option, incentives, or contractors. Your project results are automatically saved, so you can access, review, or update them any time.

The Clean Energy Calculator makes it easy to explore the benefits of transitioning to an all-electric home. Log in today and see how an electric home works for you.
