

PG&E Self-Generation Incentive Program (SGIP) – Video Transcript

There's an incentive program from PG&E that helps customers maintain power during electrical outages, stay safe and save money.

Eligible customers can get a home battery or solar system, plus battery installed and get reimbursed for up to 100% of the cost.

Both homeowners and renters qualify.

And there are options to buy or lease the equipment from a contractor.

Learn more about this incentive, or finding a contractor at pge.com/sgip.