

Helping tenants prepare for Public Safety Power Shutoffs

For your safety, PG&E may have to turn off power to prevent a wildfire when risk is high. This is called a Public Safety Power Shutoff (PSPS). It is important to prepare ahead of a PSPS. These resources can help you stay informed and safe in the event you may need support for mobility issues or live in a building with an elevator or wheelchair lifts.

Explore available resources at pge.com/pspsresources.

- Explore how the Medical Baseline Program and the Self-Identified Vulnerable Program can support you.
- Learn how Disability Disaster Access and Resources Program can offer support before, during and after a PSPS outage.
- Discover free and reduced-cost backup power options.

If you need help preparing or accessing resources, call 211, text 'PREPARE' to 211-211, or visit 211.org.
