

Energy Advisor for Business

APRIL 2014

SHARE

Peak Day Pricing transition begins in November

Your business will begin transitioning to a Peak Day Pricing rate starting Nov. 1. Here's what you should know to prepare your business, including details on automatic risk-free Bill Protection.

Learn how to save

Your HVAC system can perform like never before

PG&E's Commercial HVAC Quality Maintenance Program will ensure your HVAC system runs at peak performance. With regular, quality maintenance over the course of three years, you can expect increased comfort and improved air quality, as well as energy and cost savings.

Learn more

Green vehicles for business: Seven reasons why they're coming on strong

More and more California businesses are adding alternative-fuel cars and trucks to their commercial fleet as part of a smart investment strategy.

Learn why

Reduce heat and glare with new "smart window" technology

Is your energy bill sky high? One culprit could be the wall of windows in your lobby or conference room. Self-tinting windows offer a cool solution on hot summer days.

Learn more

Is your business ready for an earthquake?

Earthquakes can strike suddenly and without warning. Prepare now to reduce your risk of injuries or property damage, and to ensure that your business operations are not disrupted. Make sure your employees know what to do before, during and after an earthquake.

Get prepared

pge.com | subscribe | privacy | disclosure | unsubscribe

For inquiries, please do not reply to this e-mail. Submit feedback via Contact Us. "PG&E" refers to Pacific Gas and Electric Company, a subsidiary of PG&E Corporation, 77 Beale St. San Francisco, CA 94105. © 2014 Pacific Gas and Electric Company. All rights reserved. These offerings are funded by California utility customers and administered by PG&E under the auspices of the California Public Utilities Commission.