

PG&E Energy Advisor for Business

JANUARY 2014

SHARE

Rebates extended through June 2014

California building code updates have been delayed until July 1, 2014. These changes, which set stricter energy-efficiency guidelines, will impact PG&E incentive programs; giving you more time to take advantage of valuable rebates on energy-efficient lighting, occupancy sensors and other products.

Learn more

Are you ready to weather a winter storm?

Extreme winter weather can result in building damage, business closures and reduced profitability. You can minimize the effects of a winter storm by planning ahead. Will you be prepared?

Get ready

PG&E rate changes and your bottom line

PG&E is committed to providing your business with safe, reliable and affordable energy. On January 1, gas and electric rates were increased to pay for higher wholesale prices and infrastructure improvements. We understand that the cost of energy is critical to your bottom line so we want to encourage you to learn about our easy to use online tools that can help you save energy and money.

Start saving

Wind energy: boom today, uncertain tomorrow

It's never been smooth sailing for the wind energy industry. Despite continued growth and high-profile projects; on-again, off-again tax credits have led to a boom and bust cycle for wind energy investments.

Read more

Simple steps to a lower natural gas bill

Don't let wasted energy burn a hole in your operating budget. By combining preventive maintenance with smart operating practices and low-cost upgrades, you can reduce your natural gas use without a big investment of time or money.

Get started