With more than 23,000 employees, PG&E is the primary natural gas and electric service provider for Northern and Central California encompassing a 70,000-square-mile service area from Eureka to Bakersfield and from the Pacific Ocean to the Sierra Nevada. PG&E delivers some of the nation’s cleanest energy to 16 million people.

PG&E’s Energy Savings Assistance Program Overview:

PG&E’s Energy Savings Assistance (ESA) Program helps income qualified customers to reduce their energy consumption and costs while increasing their health, comfort, and safety. The ESA Program is designed to meet both the requirements of Public Utilities Code Section 2790 (and as modified by Assembly Bill 1393) and directives from the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). The ESA Program is directed specifically to serve California Alternate Rate for Energy (CARE) Customers and other qualifying low-income Customers who reside in residential housing for at least five years, including Single Family Homes, Mobile Homes, and Multi-Unit Dwellings. The ESA Program does not include emergency shelters, homeless shelters, and women’s shelters. All ESA Program participants must be on residential rates. Group homes on residential and non-residential rates are eligible for low-income energy efficiency (LIEE) services, provided they are currently eligible for CARE and the current CARE guidelines applicable to group living facilities, or the applicable Single Family, Multi-Unit Dwelling, Mobile Home, or Public Housing suitable for the ESA Program Energy Efficiency Measures (EEM). Under the ESA Program, public housing is defined as a housing authority operated or subsidized housing facility but does not include on-base military housing. The ESA Program portfolio has a Main ESA Program that serves Single Family and Mobile Homes, and an ESA Pilot will operate from 2022-2026. Effective 2023, Multi-Unit Dwellings will be served under the ESA Multifamily Whole Building Program (ESA MFWB).
