

Speaker 1 (00:03):

A title reads PG and E Community Relations presents. A title reads 2022 Impact Report. A title reads Giving Back to our Communities by delivering for people, our planet and California's prosperity. A young girl helps plant a tree. A title reads, in 2022, we made more than 950 grants to nonprofit organizations in our communities. A man pulls trash out of a river. A title reads, we gave 25 million to support education, economic, and community vitality, emergency preparedness and safety environment. People constructing a building as a title reads 8 million dollars to local businesses and organizations that bring economic and cultural life to our communities. Two people hugging as a title reads 6.3 million dollars to education programs and scholarships for tomorrow's leaders. Two PG and E coworkers giving a presentation to children. A title reads, 5.9 million dollars for emergency preparedness and safety programs, A man holds plants as a title reads 2.1 million dollars to build resiliency, address climate change, and improve environmental stewardship. A title reads, every day people are making a difference in our communities. A college student walks on campus as a title reads, 40 college students received Better Together STEM Scholarships to further their studies in science, technology, engineering, and math.

(03:05):

A title reads Expansion of the Better Together Investing in California youth program is helping more than 150,000 students achieve their college goals. A man hands a woman bags of food. A title reads more than 3.75 million people received nutritious food through our partnerships with county and tribal food banks and nonprofits. An infographic about emergency preparedness with a title that reads our public safety campaign with the California Fire Foundation reached people with preparedness and safety messaging 45 million times. A restaurant worker talking to a PG and E coworker with a title that reads more than 350 local restaurants received grants through our partnership with the California Restaurant Foundation. People doing construction work. A title reads, in 2022, 1,400 PE and E coworkers volunteered in their communities. A title reads volunteering more than 29,500 hours. A title reads our grants focused on disadvantaged communities. Two women hug as a title reads, 93% supported communities of color. A woman sorting vegetables. A title reads, 91% supported underserved communities. Children in Golden State Warriors jerseys with a title that reads and 87% supported low-income communities. A title reads, we are committed to you. A title reads and we will keep supporting the organizations you love in your community.

(06:00):

A title reads, learn more about the impact of our hometown partnerships. Visit pge.com/giving.