Advice 5249-G

(Pacific Gas and Electric Company ID U 39 G)

Public Utilities Commission of the State of California

Subject: Notice of First day of PG&E's Backbone Transmission Capacity Below Threshold of the Average Day in a 1-in-10 Cold and Dry Year Standard Established by Decision 06-09-039, per Decision 22-07-002

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) hereby submits notice to the California Public Utilities Commission's (Commission) Energy Division pursuant to Decision (D.) 22-07-002 issued on July 14, 2022 (Decision), as part of the Order Instituting Rulemaking to Establish Policies, Processes, and Rules to Ensure Safe and Reliable Gas Systems in California and Perform Long-Term Gas System Planning.¹

Purpose

The purpose of this Advice Letter is to comply with Appendix A², which requires a utility to notify Energy Division and the R.20-01-007 service list via a Tier 1 Advice Letter on the first day its backbone transmission capacity fails to meet the minimum design standard as described in Appendix A.

Background

The Decision requires PG&E to maintain adequate backbone capacity to meet the average day in a 1-in-10 cold and dry year standard established by D.06-09-039. This standard serves as a floor below which the daily available backbone capacity may not fall. PG&E is required to notify Energy Division and the R.20-01-007 service list via a Tier 1 Advice Letter on the first day the backbone transmission capacity fails to meet the minimum design standard as described in Appendix A, Attachment 1.³ Utilities must report their available backbone capacity in both million cubic feet per day (MMcf/d) and dekatherms (Dth) in this Tier 1 advice letter.

Notice of First Day of Total Available Capacity Below the Threshold Floor

For September 1, 2026, PG&E's calculation of total available capacity from Cycle 1 compared to the Threshold Floor is as follows:

Table 1 – Total Available Capacity

First Gas Day Impacted	(a)	(b)	(c)	(d)	(e)	(f=d-e)
9/1/2026	Redwood Path	Baja - Topock	California Production (Scheduled Volumes)	Total Available Capacity	1-in-10 cold and dry year standard ¹	Slack Capacity
Available Receipt Point Capacity (MMcf/d)	1,910	600	20	2,530	2,538	-8
Available Receipt Point Capacity (Dth/d)	2,014,500	609,500	20,251	2,644,251	2,672,514	-28,263
Comments:	Redwood Path: Burney Station Maintenance (9/1/-9/3/26), Baja Path: Topock Station Maintenance (9/1/-9/30/26), Kettleman Station Maintenance (9/1/-9/30/26) and Hinkley Station Unplanned Maintenance (9/1/-9/2/26)

¹ Required to maintain adequate backbone capacity to meet the average day in a 1-in-10 cold and dry year standard established by D.06-09-039. The 1-in-10 cold and dry year, for 2026, is 2,538 MMcf as referenced in the 2026 California Gas Report, Table 33, p.99.

With planned Burney Station maintenance on Redwood Path and Topock Station maintenance on Baja Path on September 1, 2026 gas day, the resulting total available capacity (Cycle 1) to fall below the threshold by 8 MMcf/day.

PG&E posts the latest maintenance/outage information on Pipe Ranger's Pipeline Maintenance News page and provides a Prospective Maintenance forecast for the next 6-12 months, subject to change at any time dependent on various planned or unplanned maintenance timelines. Pipe Ranger's Physical Pipeline Capacity page shows daily physical capacity at the various interconnects.

The total available capacity information is also posted on PG&E's Interactive Pipeline Map on its Pipe Ranger homepage: <https://www.pge.com/pipeline/index.page>. The download feature provides a previous gas day's final Physical Pipeline Capacity and Scheduled Volumes information. It is important to note that the information may be different than what is reported given the timing of this Advice Letter.
